

Stilton Literary Agency

Ingunn Birkeland is knitting

Original title: Ingunn Birkeland strikker
Publisher: Gyldendal Forlag 2022
Non-Fiction / Hobby/Hand craft
45070 Words

Ingunn Birkeland, known for creating exclusive dresses for the red carpet, worn by a number of Norwegian cultural personalities, has had knitting as her favorite pastime since childhood. Finally, her beautiful design is presented in this fabulous book!

In the book you will find 29 patterns- a mixture of treasures from her archives and completely new designs, for both adults and children. The color universe is carefully composed and balances between deep and light, cold and warm tones. For all the patterns, there are several color combinations to choose from. All garments are knitted in yarn from Rauma and range from different types of wool to summer cotton variants. In addition to the characteristic grid pattern "CITY" in all the colors of the rainbow, you will also find patterns for simple, solid-colored and striped garments - such as jackets, dresses, sweaters, hats and scarves. The degree of difficulty of the patterns varies, and there is something for everyone depending on your taste and patience!

Foreign rights

Bogoo Books, Denmark

Ingunn Birkeland

Ingunn Birkeland is a designer from Oslo who is known for her unique, colorful interlacement patterns. She has a very special flair for combining colors, lines, shapes and materials. She is a trained clothing designer from the Norwegian School of Crafts and Design (today KHiO). After completing her master's degree (MA) at the Department of Clothing and Costumes in 2005, she established the brand INGUNN BIRKELAND OSLO (IBO). She is known for her characteristic braids and grid patterns, in a carefully composed and balanced color palette.

Other titles

Ingunn Birkeland crochets (2024)
Ingunn Birkeland is Sewing (2023)